On 8-12-08, I Charles Pritchett is writting [sic] you a letter about my money, and I have not heard from you. Your time is up. The color of the paper has change on you again, for the money you ored [sic] me. Your times [sic] is up. I'm now filing a complaint against you with the Flint police department, for not responds [sic] to a law-sued [sic], that was filed against you in a federal court, by a federal judge. I'm also filing a complaint against you for not responds [sic] to a requested [sic] that I made in writting [sic] to you about 2 DNA tests, or blood tests or boths [sic][.] You had several days to reponds [sic] to my requested [sic], and you have filed [sic] to reponeds [sic]. I'm also filed for custody of my said son when the tests come back. If he is mine. This has been going on long enough. This has to stop. I hope you understand and give me your fullest cooperation on this matter. in this matter.

Yours truly
Charles Pritchett

“[A] district court may, at any time, sua sponte dismiss a complaint for lack of subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to Rule 12(b)(1) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure when the allegations of a complaint are totally implausible, attenuated, unsubstantial, frivolous, devoid of merit, or no longer open to discussion.” Apple v. Glenn, 183 F.3d 477, 479 (6th Cir. 1999). The Court finds that Plaintiff’s complaint is, on its face, totally implausible, frivolous and devoid of merit.

Accordingly, the Court DISMISSES this action pursuant to Rule 12(b)(1).

SO ORDERED.
